

Does Hell seem unreasonable to you? Ok, here's why....

Because you don't think looking with lust or lying is a big deal, but God does. Your crime against God is infinitely big because He is infinitely Holy. Let me help you out with this analogy. If I lie to my kids would I go to jail? No. If I lie to my wife a different reaction is going to happen - I'm going to sleep on the couch. I lie to my boss, I get fired. I lie to the government, it's called treason. I can go to jail for that. Same crime, different consequences. What's changed? It's the one against whom I've committed the crime. Greater authority means a greater punishment because it is a grander offense. If you lie to the God of the universe who created everything it is worthy of Hell.
