

Why believe in Christianity over all other religions?

That is an awfully arrogant statement to make. But, not if it can be backed up and from what I can see from my own studies I see that it can be backed up by.

- 1. Fulfilled prophecy about the Messiah in the Old Testament
- 2. Eye witness accounts of the disciples in the Gospels.
- 3. Jesus' miracles and resurrection.

Every other world religion or world view is about what you can do to earn your salvation. That you must do good works and hopefully the good will outweigh the bad, but Christianity says you can't do good. You must humble yourself before God because He is going to get all the credit for this.

Also, Christianity is not something where we claim to have "figured out" God. But it is that God has revealed and manifested Himself to us. We are simply the custodians of God's revelation to us. It is nothing that we have done or can do.
