Guitar players may want to accompany this tune with a capo on fret three, playing in Em. This would change Gm to Em, F to D, Dm to Bm and Bb to G.

My four year old daughter, Grace, and I spent a night at the cabin just before this tune came along. At dusk, I went to lighting candles and oil lamps and she said, "When I get old enough I'll be able to light the candles, right Dad?" It doesn't seem like much, but it's a memory that sticks with me. How I wish our little ones could stay little, for when the day comes that I can say, "Light the candles, Daughter", she'll no longer be the innocent little treasure she was on that special night.
